Art Unit: 1712

1. Applicants' amendment to the claims has overcome the rejection over Stuart, for reasons consistent with those noted in applicants' remarks. The following rejections, however, are maintained.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1 to 8 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 13, 14, 19, 20 and 25, claims 1 - 25, claims 1 - 17 and claims 1 - 17 of copending applications 10/690,955, 10/690,751, 10/690,954 and 10/690,956, respectively. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed polyether urethane combinations in each of the copending applications include a polyether having one reactive silane group as claimed. The claims in the copending applications embrace that instantly claimed, which is open to the inclusion of some polyether urethanes having two reactive silane groups. Applicants traverse this rejection by stating that the copending applications do not disclose or suggest the limitation that the polyether urethane containing compositions include from 40 to 80 percent by weight (based on polyether urethanes) of a polyether urethane containing one reactive silane group. This position is not persuasive. Each of these applications teach a weight range of 10 to 80% by weight of a polyether having one reactive silane group prepared from a compound meeting formula (1) as claimed. Thus each application anticipates the upper limit of 80 wt% found in the instant claims and embraces the entire 40 to 80 wt% range claimed. Thus these rejections are maintained.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. Claims 1 - 8 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by copending Application Nos. 10/690,955 and 10/690,751 which has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the copending applications, they would constitute prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e), if published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b) or patented. This provisional rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) is based upon a presumption of future publication or patenting of the copending application. The claimed polyether urethanes in each of the copending applications include a polyether having one reactive silane group as claimed. The claims in the copending applications embrace that instantly claimed. Applicants traverse this rejection by stating that the copending applications do not disclose or suggest the limitation that the polyether urethane containing compositions include from 40 to 80 percent by weight (based on polyether urethanes) of a polyether urethane containing one reactive silane group. This position is not persuasive. Each of these applications teach a weight range of 10 to 80% by weight of a polyether having one reactive silane group prepared from a compound meeting formula (1) as claimed. Thus each application anticipates the upper limit of 80 wt% found in the instant claims and embraces the entire 40 to 80 wt% range claimed. Thus these rejections are maintained.

This provisional rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the copending application was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131. This rejection may not be overcome by the filing of a terminal disclaimer. See In re Bartfeld, 925 F.2d 1450, 17 USPQ2d 1885 (Fed. Cir. 1991).

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
